Funding

A more open and secure Europe requires adequate funding that is directed to those policy areas where we are facing collective challenges and in which EU funds can truly make a difference. Part of EU funding is also dedicated to EU Home Affairs agencies, which play a key role in implementing operational cooperation between EU States.

Asylum, migration and integration funds

The Asylum, Migration and Integration Fund contributes to the efficient management of migration flows and aims at strengthening and developing a common approach to asylum and migration.

Borders and visa funds

The commitment of EU countries to enable legitimate travel and ensure solid management of EU's external borders, is promoted under the Internal Security Fund for Borders and Visa.

Internal security funds

The commitment of EU countries to a high level of security and crime prevention in the EU is promoted under the Internal Security Fund.

Security research funds

Horizon Europe is the biggest EU Research and Innovation programme ever aimed at securing the EU's global competitiveness. Under Horizon Europe, security research is about undertaking the research and innovation activities needed to protect our citizens and increase the resilience of our society.
