UNHCR IN BANGLADESH

United Nations
High Commissioner for Refugees

UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency takes the lead in protecting people forced to flee war and persecution around the world, providing life-saving aid to ensure their basic safety, rights and dignity.

WHY WORK FOR UNHCR

The needs of people forced to flee are at the heart of everything we do. We are working together with refugees to help them restart their lives and build a better future. We are mandated to deliver the best possible outcome in an environment where staff members are empowered and can grow both professionally and personally.

Joining UNHCR means living, sharing and promoting the four guiding principles of humanitarianism – humanity, neutrality, impartiality and independence – as well as UNHCR's commitment to inclusion, diversity and gender-parity, which are exemplified in the various nationalities, cultures and languages of our personnel.

HOW TO JOIN US?

Register and complete an online profile in the UNHCR recruitment platform, provide the required information in detail and make sure to keep it up to date. Once the profile is ready, submit your applications for the available job openings.

UNHCR has been assisting the Government of Bangladesh to respond to and find solutions for nearly one million Rohingya refugees who have found refuge in Bangladesh, as well as easing the pressure on the local host community in Bangladesh. In collaborating with national authorities, UN agencies, national and international NGO partners, development actors and donors, UNHCR supports vulnerable refugees with access to protection, solutions and basic services including:

- Shelter, Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) facilities;
- Education;
- Primary healthcare;
- Clean and efficient energy sources;
- Protection services, including Child Protection, Gender-Based Violence, Legal Assistance, Community-Based Protection, and Sexual Exploitation, Abuse and Harassment (SEA);
- Livelihoods and skill development support among other areas.
