1. Review of minutes of previous meeting ▪ Pervious minutes reviewed and adopted by members
2. FRRM helpline call trends related to COVID-19 and impact analysis ▪ FRRM helpline team delivered a presentation looking at COVID -19 related call trends received through the FRRM. ▪ Presentation focused on a sector-by-sector analysis of the impact of COVID-19 through related calls. The information can be used to better understand some of the challenges POC are facing during the pandemic and related national lockdowns. ▪ Information presented is indicative of refugee's views and challenges and is simply a representation of what some are experiencing at this time. As with all feedback data, it's important that the information is considered carefully but also not viewed as representative of the entire community. Discussion. ▪ Participants questioned some of the findings and believe that some of the calls indicated a need for increased information campaign in the settlements to help dispel misinformation and rumors. Concerns were raised specifically in relation to issues around food security and land disputes. ▪ FRRM team pointed out that the presentation relates to calls under FRRM categories 1,2,3,5 and that many of the calls relate to information requests only. In this regards the FRRM has been useful at dispelling false information. ▪ FRRM teams stressed the need to improve referral times and response rates. The presentation indicated that POCs are increasingly reliant on the helpline at this time and greater effort from focal point should be made to respond to concerns raised. ▪ Further sensitization and awareness raising at the settlement level is needed.	▪ FRRM team to share presentation to all task team members. ▪ Partners and filed locations should review FRRM information and develop localized information campaigns to target misinformation information and create of the helpline ▪ Focal points to design messages and share with the FRMM team to disseminate to refugees as the call the helpline. i.e. continued building of the FRRM's database of FAQs
