

Update on Displacement from Lebanon

9 October 2024

Data referenced is based on information UNHCR has collated from Government sources and partners between 27 September and 8 October.

Situation Overview

- On 8 October, Iraq received 842 Lebanese through Al-Qaim border crossing. UNHCR is aware of over approximately 7,500 Lebanese who have arrived in Iraq since the escalation of hostilities in Lebanon through various points including the Al-Qaim border crossing (5,216) and airports in Baghdad and Najaf.¹

- Many Lebanese arrivals to Iraq are currently hosted in Najaf and Karbala (approximately 49% of the new arrivals). In addition, there have been reports of Lebanese arriving in Ninewa (64 families), Basra (200 individuals), Samawa (30 families), Salah al-Din (96 individuals), Diyala (10 families) and Erbil. The local authorities in these Governorates have largely designated residential buildings to accommodate the new Lebanese arrivals, although many Lebanese are also reportedly staying with friends and family.

- An estimated 62% of the Lebanese arrivals are women and children. In addition, approximately 50% of households are reportedly headed by women.
- A small number of Lebanese have started approaching UNHCR through our community centres in Mosul, Baghdad and Erbil requesting support with accommodation and information on available services in the area such as health and education. These requests vary depending on the specific location of arrival and existing services available in the area.
- Although Lebanese children can attend public schools in Iraq following the directive from the Ministry of Education to facilitate their inclusion, many schools in the areas where they are arriving are already overcrowded and the capacity to absorb additional students is reportedly limited.

These sections contain information on the recent displacement of Lebanese nationals arriving in Iraq over the past week. Some points may reiterate details from previous Flash Updates for ease and relevance.^{2,3}

UNHCR and Partner Presence

- UNHCR and its partner the International Rescue Committee (IRC) remain present at the Al-Qaim border. UNHCR is advocating with the Government to get full access to the new arrivals at the border given the current limitations in place to access and monitor new arrivals from Lebanon.
- Through its partners, the Legal Clinics Network (LCN) and Intersos, UNHCR is also present in Najaf, Karbala, Baghdad, Salah al-Din and other Governorates maintaining contact with local authorities to gather information on the arrival of Lebanese nationals in these areas.
- UNHCR has deployed staff to Anbar (covering Al-Qaim border crossing as well as Salah Al-Din and Diyala governorates), Najaf, Karbala and Baghdad. UNHCR continues to liaise with government and local authorities so as to gather information on the government plans.

Government of Iraq Response

- On 08 October, the Governor of Anbar instructed the Youth and Sports Directorate in Anbar to prepare all youth centres in Anbar to be ready to accommodate potential new arrivals from Lebanon and/or Palestine. In addition, the youth and sports centres in the governorate are instructed to start a financial donation campaign to support displaced Lebanese and Palestinians.
- Following a directive from the Iraqi Prime Minister's, Lebanese citizens without a valid passport are allowed to enter Iraq using an identity card, an individual or family civil status extract, or an expired passport. In addition, the Iraqi government, in coordination with the Lebanese embassy in Syria, has also expedited travel processes, ensuring that Lebanese citizens without passports can receive emergency travel documents, allowing them entry to the country. For those with documentation, free entry visas for Lebanese nationals are issued at Iraq's border crossings. The Directorate of Residency Affairs also continues to extend the stay of Lebanese citizens present in Iraq without the need for them to leave the country. Their stay is extended for 30 days and can be renewed under the Residency Law.
- The Government of Iraq has committed to include Lebanese arrivals in national systems. Iraq's Minister of Education has issued instructions advising schools in Iraq to host students and pupils coming from Lebanon to avoid depriving them of studying this year. In addition, Lebanese arrivals to Iraq have access to national public health services.
