

Context

UNHCR is closely monitoring the displacement and protection situation in South Sudan, following an sharp escalation of violence and insecurity since February 2025.

While the conflict initially intensified in Upper Nile State—particularly in Nasir, Ulang, and Baliet Counties—and in Fangak County, Jonglei State, it has since spread to other parts of the country, triggering population movements both within South Sudan and across its borders.

Since March, some 132,000 people have sought refuge in neighbouring countries, including an estimated 23,000 in the DRC, about 35,000 in Ethiopia, 51,000 in Sudan, and around 23,000 in Uganda. Within South Sudan, OCHA reports that approximately 173,000 people have been newly displaced in all locations affected by the conflict.

Key figures

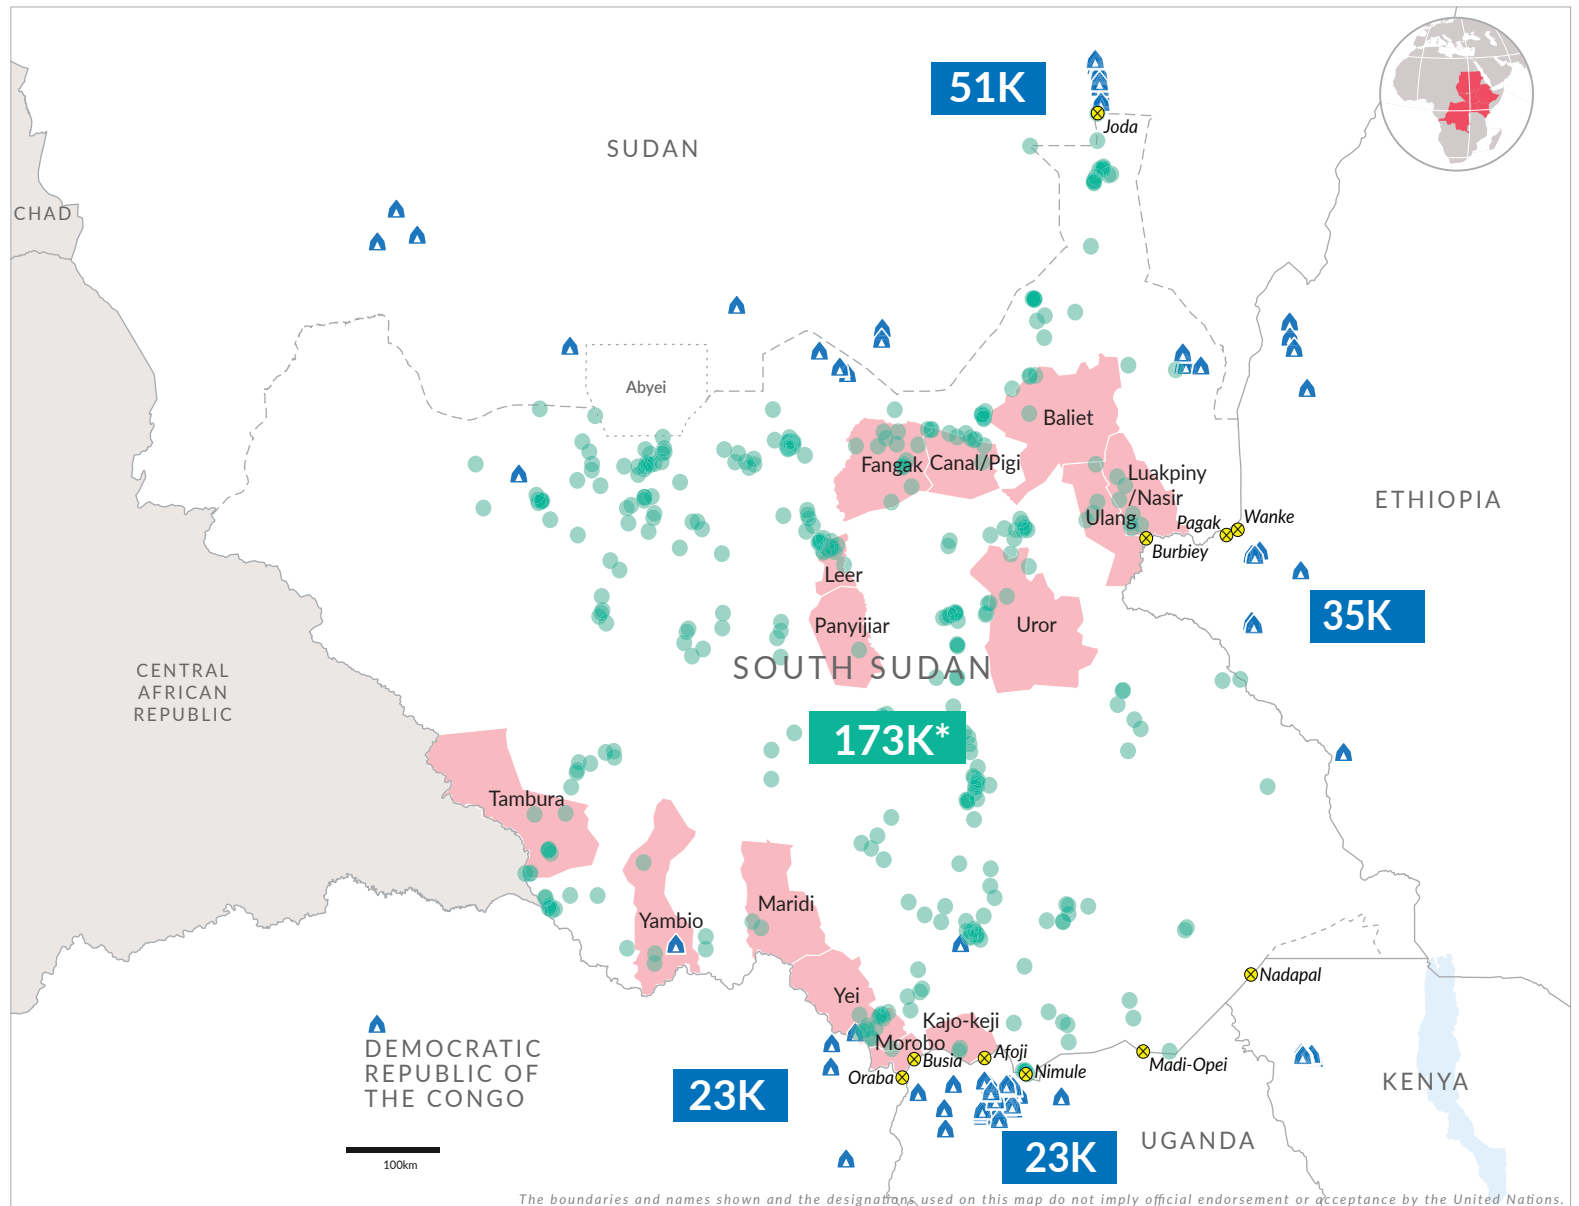

132K

New arrivals from South Sudan in neighbouring countries (since March 2025)

173K*

Estimated new IDPs in all locations affected by the conflict (since March 2025)

- Key affected area in SSD
- Estimated number of new arrivals
- New IDPs
- Crossing point
- IDP location (Pop >1000)
- Refugee, formal settlement

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations.

* Reported by IOM/ OCHA South Sudan for the period covering March to June 2025 out of 373,076 new IDPs in 2025.