The total number of Rwandan refugees living in the DRC is based on the validated figure presented by the DRC Government at the Tripartite in Kigali in June 2013, minus those Rwandans that returned home since then. As agreed during this same Tripartite, these figures will be further validated during a planned biometric registration in 2015.

With regards to the Central African refugees, it is important to note that the 68.156 resembles those that are currently registered in UNHCR's ProGress database. The ongoing verification exercise in- and outside of camp context will allow UNHCR to come up with new statistics early 2015.

Some 18,000 Angolans have opted for voluntary return, while 27,824 former Angolan refugees have opted for local integration in the DRC.

Working with partners

- Together with the DRC Government authorities, in particular the National Commission for Refugees (CNR), UNHCR manages and implements humanitarian assistance and protection for refugees, returnees and internally displaced persons. Within the collaborative approach, support is delivered jointly with MONUSCO, WFP, OCHA, UNDP, UNFPA, WHO, FAO, UN-HABITAT, UN-WOMEN and IOM among other agencies and NGOs. UNHCR is also the lead of the Protection and Prevention component of the Comprehensive Strategy to Combating SGBV in DRC, under the STAREC.

In the field, assistance is delivered together with 14 implementing partners: ADES, ADSSE, AGIR POUR LE GENRE, AIDES, AIRD, CNR, COOPI, ERUKIN, IEDA, INTERSOS, MIDEFEHOPF, SFCG, TSF and WFWI.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

- On 19 August 2014, UNHCR launched the final assisted voluntary repatriation of former Angolan refugees. At the end of November, a total of 10,410 persons had returned back home. In total, UNHCR is aiming to repatriate 37,336 Angolans from Kinshasa, Bas-Congo and Katanga.
- To ensure the smooth continuation of the voluntary repatriation of former Angolan refugees, a Tripartite was held in Kinshasa from 24 until 26 November, between UNHCR and the governments of Angola and the DRC. So far, 12,000 out of the 18,000 temporary residency cards have been given to Angolans who opted for local integration in the DRC, financed by UNHCR.
- In 2014, UNHCR has so far repatriated a total of 5,293 Rwandan refugees and 901 Burundian refugees to their respective home countries. With support, UNHCR will finalize a biometric verification of Rwandan refugees in the DRC.
- Furthermore, this year UNHCR has finalized the repatriation of 119,024 Congolese returnees coming from the Republic of Congo. The largest group of Congolese refugees living outside of the DRC can be found in Uganda, which number stands at 184,502.
- On 25 November 2014 the 16 Days of Activism was launched throughout the entire country, which had as theme: 'early marriages'. The campaign aims to reduce prevalence of sexual violence (SGBV) through sensitization and advocacy. For instance, partner Search for Common Ground had organized participatory theater in several sites to show the dangers of early marriages (see picture right, in Libenge, Equateur).
- Since the existence of Inke refugee camp (Equateur), 341 birth certificates have been distributed. In total 369 babies have been born in the camp, making the total of registered babies amount to 93%.
- UNHCR is protecting sex workers in North Kivu (Masisi). This month 79 internally displaced sex workers have followed their regular consultations and were treated for sexually transmitted diseases. Furthermore, they enrolled themselves into a family planning program, which avoids women from having unwanted pregnancies. As part of its work here, UNHCR is also helping sex workers and child victims of sexual exploitation to go back to school or generate their own income.
- 4,458 protection incidents were recorded in the month of November in North Kivu, showing the high protection needs in Eastern Congo. During the first ten months of 2014, a total of 15,873 protection incidents have been reported in Katanga Province, of which over 88 per cent (or 14,057) took place in the regions of Kalemie, Manono, Mitwaba and Pweto.
