

activities included training on how to use ceramic water filters and a school hygiene promotion program in the TLSs. SI also did global hand washing day competition coordinating with ACF.

HEALTH: Mercy Malaysia opened the clinic five days a week (minus two days in week 1 due to a complaint and misunderstanding between volunteers and patient). No major health cases had to be treated. Most of patients are suffering from fever, diarrhoea, and coughing.

FOOD: WFP rations for 15 days were delivered in week 1, 2, and 3, and included rice, beans, salt, oil, and nutrition powder. Government provided rice to 164 host community families in week 3.

EDUCATION: TLSs of SCI opened regularly. SCI began construction of youth centres in BDP-1, BDP-2, and BDP village. These youth centres will be used for non-formal education activities for out-of-school children.

NON-FOOD ITEM: IDPs have already received NFI kits from DRC in 2014, but they are stating that they still need solar lanterns.

NUTRITION: SCI, ACF, and MHAA regular activities around nutrition centre on-going, depending on their schedules. SCI provided counselling to the mother group, a focus group discussion regarding nutrition activities, and peer group meetings at the pregnant woman space. SCI also collected list of pregnant women and new born babies, measured the weight of women who have been pregnant from 6 months to 9 months, and provided pregnant women with multivitamins. Furthermore, SCI provided mental health and care practice training to its volunteers, and held a cooking demonstration. ACF opened the clinic as usual, doing MUAC measurements for children, while also collecting Squeac Survey. MHAA provided nutrition powder to malnourished children.

CHILD PROTECTION: SCI's activities are on-going and all CFSs opened regularly according to schedule. CFS staffs provided living harmony training to child group as well as further trainings to volunteer teachers and women group. Furthermore, IRC did community awareness session with women, men, girls, and boys groups. No child protection issue was raised during this month.

OTHER ISSUE: IRCR held meeting with CMC, as it will provide training to five volunteers for three days in November. Government ordered CMC to collect population and household data in the camp

PROTECTION: Protection monitoring, activities with the women's group, and identification of PWSNs for IPAs are ongoing.
