Population Movement from Sudan

as of 17 Aug 2023

OVERVIEW: There are now over 4.5 million forcibly displaced due to the recent outbreak of conflict in Sudan, including 3,433,025 internally and 922,339 in neighbouring countries. Sudan was already hosting large refugee populations before being impacted by this new emergency and, like hosting countries, need additional support to provide protection and critical life-saving assistance. The most basic needs are urgently needed, including water, food, shelter, health, and core relief items. The current priority activities are the registration of new arrivals, relocation away from border areas, identification of specially vulnerable families and persons with specific needs, and putting mechanisms in place to prevent and respond to gender-based violence and ensure alternative care services for unaccompanied refugee children.
