Uganda Refugee Response Plan (RRP) 2022-2023

January - September 2023

Overview

The Uganda Cash Working Group (CWG) supports the humanitarian community to use cash and voucher assistance (CVA). The forum has technical functions such as sharing lessons learnt, harmonizing approaches to delivering cash, developing guidelines as well as strategic functions to avoid gaps and duplications, engage in advocacy efforts to promote relevant assistance and influence policy. The CWG focuses on multi-purpose cash transfers (MPC) and sectoral cash grants.

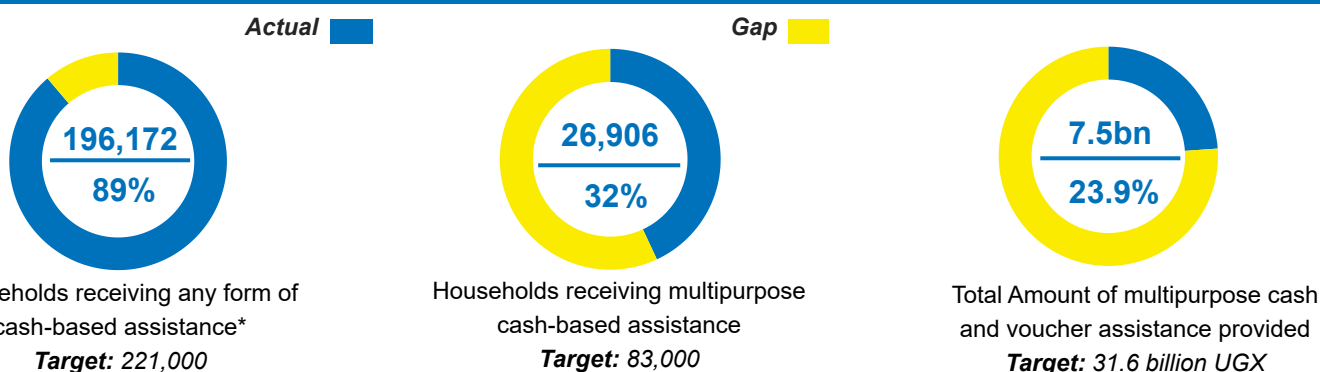

Achievements / challenges of the sector

The refugee response is evolving, with focus shifting to self-reliance for forcibly displaced and stateless persons hosted in the country and cash-based interventions are important for this shift. Assistance is increasingly being provided through digital services such as mobile money as this allows vulnerable families to receive cash assistance in a timely, efficient, and discrete manner. With the help of WFP and partners, financial literacy trainings continue to be a priority to promote safe and meaningful use of cash assistance. Initiatives to improve financial inclusion through access to credit and utilization of other financial services are being stepped up.

Key priorities and gaps foreseen for 2023

In line with the Inter Agency Standing Committee (IASC) cash coordination guidelines adopted in 2022, the Uganda CWG has completed the transition to the new cash coordination model. UNHCR is chairing and the Uganda Red Cross as a national NGO co-chair having been selected through a competitive and transparent process of the CWG. WFP continues to serve as a Technical Advisor. This new governance structure will support the working group to fully adopt the Common Cash Approach (CCA) initiated in 2020. The CCA intends to harmonize humanitarian actors' cash assistance interventions through joint frameworks for contracting financial service providers, targeting beneficiaries, implementing, and monitoring as well as ensuring interoperability of systems and data exchange. In 2023 the CWG will revisit the work undertaken to date and establish a roadmap for how to reach a CCA in a timely and strategic manner. Concretely, the CWG can opt for data from the 2022 Individual Profiling Exercise (IPE) to be used for cash intervention targeting for the most vulnerable families to meet their basic needs. Moreover, critical focus is given to update the minimum expenditure basket (MEB), last revised in 2021, to ensure that there is a conducive environment for planning and implementing multi-purpose cash interventions. With the technical support of REACH, this is expected to be finalized in the next quarter.
