

The situation in Afghanistan has remained highly volatile since August 2021, with civilians continuing to be gravely affected by the security, human rights, and humanitarian crises in the country. De facto authorities have steadily limited the rights of women and girls to freedom of movement, education, access to work and other human rights by a series of discriminatory restrictions. Many Afghans are fleeing to Iran in an irregular manner through unofficial border crossings and with the help of smugglers, as official border points remain closed for entry to persons without valid passports and visas intending to seek asylum. Over 3 million Afghans are estimated to be internally displaced by the end of 2022 while at least 8 million Afghans reside in surrounding countries. UNHCR currently lacks sustained access to border areas and is only able to report on newly arrived Afghans who have approached UNHCR offices through hotlines and receptions. UNHCR provides information, including through counselling, to newly arrived. Based on an assessment of specific situations, UNHCR may provide further assistance, consisting of inter alia psychosocial support, referrals to legal counselling, and cash-based interventions.

Following the 2022 Headcount exercise, Government officials have publicly mentioned a figure of approximately 1 million new arrivals since August 2021 out of the 2.6 million Afghans who participated and obtained a 'Headcount slip'. The validity of Headcount slips was systematically extended until 20 April 2023. No further announcements were made on the extension of 2022 Headcount slips. Instead, the Iranian Government is implementing a Unified IDs scheme aiming to provide a more stable legal status for foreign nationals in Iran. In February 2023, UNHCR issued an updated Guidance Note on the International Protection Needs of People Fleeing Afghanistan (Update I). Considering the overall situation in Afghanistan, the Guidance Note calls on countries to allow civilians fleeing Afghanistan access to their territories, to guarantee the right to seek asylum, and to ensure respect for the principle of non-refoulement. The bar on forcible return serves as a minimum standard and needs to remain in place until such time as the security, rule of law, and human rights situation in Afghanistan has significantly improved.

Number of newly arrived household approaches per month and year

Top 3 reported reasons for flight trend per month

Number of newly arrived households who approached UNHCR

19,514

Number of newly arrived individuals who approached UNHCR

82,706

Age/Sex breakdown of heads of household

Ethnicity (Top 5)

Document Type (Top 5)

Occupation Type (Top 5)

Specific needs among new arrivals approaching UNHCR

32,702 / 40%

Reported specific needs

Reasons for flight

Area of residence in CoA (Top 5 provinces)

