Operational context

At the crossroads of Africa and Europe, Tunisia is exposed to complex movement patterns involving refugees and migrants along the central Mediterranean route. Individuals from Central, West, East, and the Horn of Africa, as well as the Middle East, undertake perilous journeys to reach Tunisia, often encountering significant risks and rights violations along the route. Among those arriving are particularly vulnerable individuals in need of international protection, including victims of torture, survivors of gender-based violence, individuals with serious medical or psychosocial needs, as well as unaccompanied children. Once in Tunisia, limited access to basic services continues to exacerbate vulnerabilities, particularly for those without family or community support. Worsening economic conditions further compound the situation, increasing the reliance of asylum-seekers and refugees on humanitarian assistance to meet their most basic needs.

Since 2024, UNHCR has adapted its response to the evolving context by taking on the direct implementation of certain activities previously carried out by partners, while continuing to rely on partners for the delivery of other key services. This approach has ensured continued access to critical assistance for registered asylum-seekers and refugees at heightened risk, including healthcare, legal services, case management, safe shelter, and multi-purpose cash support.

Operational response

PROTECTION

- UNHCR continued its efforts to renew cards for registered refugees and asylum-seekers with a total of 1,107 cards successfully renewed in April 2025. In addition, 9 newborns were registered, and their details were added to the registered parents' file.
- UNHCR conducted vulnerability assessments for 47 registered refugees and asylum-seekers to identify the most appropriate interventions and referrals to existing services and assistance.
- UNHCR initiated best interest procedures to find solutions, such as resettlement submissions and shelter opportunities, for 4 unaccompanied children.
- UNHCR and its partner provided legal assistance, advice, and consultations to 40 additional refugees and asylum-seekers.

HELPLINE

- UNHCR's helpline services recorded a total of 4,827 communications from 1,624 unique callers, including Sudanese, Syrians, and Ivorians among the top three nationalities. Helpline assistants provided callers with information, counselling, and orientation to specialized services and assistance.

SAFE SHELTER

- In April 2025, UNHCR hosted a total of 429 refugees and asylum-seekers in UNHCR-run five safe shelters, where they benefited from basic services, including case management, counselling, mental health and psychosocial support, and food assistance.
- UNHCR offered protection initiatives and empowerment programs to people living in the safe shelters, providing access to a range of activities such as language courses, sports, movie screenings, and regular hygiene, health, and mental health awareness sessions.
- UNHCR continued to provide rental and utilities support to the Jdariya temporary safe shelter in the governorate of Medenine, which hosted some 383 refugees and asylum-seekers in April 2025.

HEALTH

- UNHCR and its partner helped vulnerable refugees and asylum-seekers access health services: 247 individuals received in-person or remote medical counseling, 151 were referred to health services. Hospital accompaniment was provided for 66 individuals.
- UNHCR delivered psychosocial counseling to 53 individuals, including 9 children.

CASH-BASED INTERVENTIONS

- With the endorsement of the Tunisian government, UNHCR continued to implement cash-based interventions, benefiting 990 individuals in April 2025. In total, 625 individuals received multipurpose cash support, 218 received cash-for-food assistance, and 147 unaccompanied children received food vouchers.

SELF-RELIANCE

- As part of a pilot initiative to enhance refugees' and asylum-seekers' prospects for third-country solutions, UNHCR partnered with local training centres and institutions in Tunis to provide vocational training. Since the beginning of the year, 52 individuals have successfully completed their training, while 14 are continuing in the program as of April 2025.
