

Guide to UNHCR Supported Health Care Services in Jordan

The Public Health Unit at UNHCR aims to ensure that all refugees receive primary and secondary health care services at Government Health Centres and hospitals as well as through UNHCR supported clinics. Tertiary health care can only be provided through the Exceptional Care Committee (ECC) (with prior approvals for emergency cases).

UNHCR supports health care services including mental health services to unregistered refugees through its partners, namely Caritas, Jordan Health Aid Society (JHAS) and International Medical Corps (IMC).

Some refugees can access government health facilities based on their nationality and registration status.

2. Governmental Health Centres

• Iraqis

Primary public health care services are available to all Iraqis as per the non-insured Jordanian rates (see Table 3) in government primary and comprehensive health centres only. Hospital services are NOT covered for Iraqis and they will be required to pay the foreigner rates. UNHCR will support secondary and tertiary hospital services for Iraqis if they are referred through JHAS or Caritas and the referral meets UNHCR's referral criteria.

Standard steps to follow in order to benefit from the governmental public services

1. Locate the nearest governmental primary or comprehensive public health centre to your place of residence
2. Register yourself at the governmental primary or comprehensive public health centre, passport (original) is necessary for registration
3. Receive the white card upon registration
4. Ask for the needed health service and then wait to be attended (waiting time depends on the congestion status of the clinic; if you go to see a doctor during a rush hour, you will wait for a while. The same applies for nationals of the country).

Note that if the UNHCR registration certificate is expired, then the refugee will have to pay for the service provided at the foreigner's rate.

• Other Nationalities

Primary and secondary health care services are available to all other registered nationalities at UNHCR's partner clinics.

Details regarding tertiary health care are found below.

B. Emergency Health Care

Call 911 for Civil Defence ambulance. If the patient or someone on behalf of the patient reports to Caritas or JHAS within a maximum period of 48 hours, the treatment cost for stabilization could be covered by UNHCR. Patients may prefer treatment at other private hospitals, but charges will be at their own expense and UNHCR will not be responsible for the cost.

UNHCR assists emergency care cases (registered or with registration/renewal appointments) at the following hospitals:

- For Iraqis and other nationalities:
 - All Governmental Hospitals all over Jordan
 - UNHCR Affiliated hospitals in Amman:
 - Italian Hospital
 - Luzmila Hospital (N.B. Except obstetric care)
 - Jordan University Hospital
- Syrians:
 - All governmental hospitals all over Jordan

C. Pregnancy and Delivery Services

The delivery cost could be covered by UNHCR if the patient (registered or with registration/renewal appointment) is referred to a governmental or affiliated hospital through JHAS or Caritas before the expected date of delivery. Delivery care is offered at all governmental hospitals.

Furthermore, antenatal services and reproductive health services are provided at Governmental primary and comprehensive public health care centres.

D. Mental Health Services

Mental health services are provided in all JHAS clinics listed above. These services are provided through the International Medical Corps (IMC).

E. Tertiary Health Care (for Recognized Refugees: Iraqis and other nationalities)

Treatment for costly tertiary care requires pre approval from UNHCR's Exceptional Care Committee (ECC) which is held monthly

Decision Criteria: the committee takes into consideration the following criteria for deciding on ECC cases

- Necessity and adequacy of the suggested treatment
- Necessity of assistance (financial vulnerability)
- Feasibility of the treatment plan
- Prognosis
- Cost
- Eligibility

The following treatments are generally not approved by UNHCR's ECC:

- High cost treatment when less costly alternative treatment is equally effective and available
- Experimental, non-evidence based treatment

- Organ transplant (e.g. kidney, bone marrow, liver, etc.)
- Assisted reproduction e.g. in vitro fertilization
- Cosmetic treatment/surgery
- High cost complex treatment of chronic conditions not available to the average Jordanian
- Elective procedures
- Thalassemia / Multiple sclerosis treatment

N.B. Please note that the committee reserves the right not to approve a case and reasons will remain confidential.
