NEEDS

There has not been a full education needs assessment undertaken in camps or host communities and the exact number of school age children in and out of school is unknown.

There is a need both inside the camps and in the host communities for Syrian children to access quality, participatory, safe and inclusive education and recreation spaces. In the host communities there is a number of schools providing education, however the number and quality of these existing schools and the numbers of children attending these schools is unknown.

There is a need to support school facilities (including pre-fab schools) in the camps and host communities including the building of new facilities and the refurbishment and rehabilitation of existing schools and buildings.

There is also a need to provide education materials, train and support teachers, and address

OBJECTIVE

The refugee population has optimal access to education.

ACTION/OUTPUTS

Quality inclusive education opportunities provided to all children and youth, including children with disabilities.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

From 3-4 September, planning meetings were held in Gaziantep by the Ministry of National Education (MoNE), with representatives from the national, provincial and camp levels, and AFAD, to discuss current activities and plans for the school year 2013/14, including areas for collaboration.

The first pre-fab school, supported by UNICEF and in cooperation with AFAD, was completed in Yayladagi 2 in Hatay governorate. The school will also be furnished to provide space for 720 children to access school in double shifts.

Shoes as part of back-to-school support were distributed to 42,090 children in 11 camps (Islahiye, Karkamis, Ceylanpinar, Akcakale, Osmaniye, Yayladagi 1, Yayladagi 2, Altinozu 1, Altinozu 2, Adiyaman and Adana). Some camps will continue distribution up to the next Eid period.

The Back-to-School campaign began in 11 camps with the distribution of visibility materials (500 posters and 25,000 brochures) to MoNE focal points in camps for distribution to the teachers and youth workers to discuss with families and children.
