NEEDS ANALYSIS:

The Egyptian Government granted Syrians access to public schools under same rules that apply to Egyptian nationals. In practice several challenges have arisen when Syrian families attempted to enroll their children in public schools most importantly the required documentation, overcrowding and safety concerns inside and outside of school. The lack of capacity and quality of the environment in public schools remains a significant barrier to the enrolment and retention of Syrian children.

A key objective of the Education Sector is to promote and facilitate access as well as improve the quality of education provided to Syrian refugees in public schools. Efforts are made to support national education systems to accommodate refugee children, including through support to teachers inside classrooms. Education is also an entry point to provide child-centred support and a mechanism to address the scars of war affecting those traumatized children and adolescents.

A particular focus will be given to the enhancement of the quality of education in public schools. This will be achieved through a host of measures including supply of IT equipment, science labs, and teacher training for primary and secondary education. The targeted subjects will be Mathematics, Science and Languages.

In order to enhance access to education for the most vulnerable boys and girls, around 150 disabled Syrian children will be supported in specialized private schools, as no public Egyptian schools currently have appropriate model of education and care required. These children will receive special education grants to cover the special needs school fees and their transportation needs. 3RP partners will support 16 public schools to accommodate children with special needs through the Inclusive School Programme.

The education response plan is based on the assumption that the current Government policy under which Syrian students have access to public schools will be continued. Based on the needs assessment conducted in 2015 by Ministry of Education (MoE) and 3RP education partners. 3RP partners will provide support to improve and rehabilitate public schools in most impacted areas by Syrian refugee crisis. Mapping of government schools most frequented by Syrian children has already been concluded, and a report by the General Authority for Educational Buildings (GAEB) has been compiled listing the needs and work required to enhance the absorption capacity of the most affected schools in impacted areas and improve WASH facilities. This report will continue to inform the dialogue with the Ministry.

Around 200,000 children aged six to 17 from host communities should directly benefit from the planned school rehabilitation programme.

The Education Working Group continue to promote effective coordination through quality information management and a continuous collaboration with other sectors such as protection, health and water, sanitation and hygiene.

HIGHLIGHTED 2

- Out of 325 DAFI students enrolled in universities, CRS provided 58 ongoing students with the allowance in December, and 205 newly enrolled students with allowances for October, November and December. This excluded the students who have completed 4 years with a DAFI scholarship, the students who have failed, and those students who have travelled outside of Egypt or have been resettled. CRS is still waiting for feedback from 6th of October University regarding the status of 33 new students to be enrolled in the 2016/2017 second semester.
- In December 2016, CRS accepted 205 new students to receive the DAFI scholarship including 11 students to be enrolled in 6th of October University starting from the 2nd semester 2016/2017. This excluded 33 students whose status is pending from 6th of October University, CRS expects to hear from the University by mid-January on the status of those students.
