

Food Security Partners continue to advocate for the role of the Sector as a foundation and enabler for achieving better outcomes in other sectors such as livelihoods and education. Crucial is the continuation of the partnership-based approach that focuses on building joint programming from the design phase, harnessing the comparative advantages of various stakeholders, avoiding overlap in programmes and improving cost-efficiency and accountability. Vital for achieving these outcomes is a continuation and increase in multi-year, flexible funding that allows for longer-term planning.

The latest reports released during the reporting period showed that in December 2016 food security in the region was stable compared to the previous quarter: 78 percent of households surveyed had 'acceptable' food consumption scores. Jordan and Lebanon continue to have the highest proportion of beneficiaries in the 'poor' or 'borderline' food consumption groups. Food consumption in Turkey, Iraq and Egypt were stable compared to the previous quarter. In Lebanon, acceptable food consumption improved by 6 percentage points. Beneficiaries with 'acceptable' food
