

The security situation in south-eastern Niger remains a challenge for humanitarian actors. According to the government, nine young men were killed, one injured while, for the first time, 37 minors including 26 girls and 11 boys were kidnaped together following an attack perpetrated by alleged Boko Haram members in Ngalewa village, located at 7 km East of Kablewa town in Nguigmi Department, on 2th of July. As of 10 May, more than 247, 000 people were still displaced in the Diffa region.
