HIGHLIGHTS

- A total of 22,999 patient consultations were provided to Syrian refugees living in KR-I, of which (19,225 PHC consultations) were made through camp-based Primary Health Care Centers for camp refugees by Directorates of Health (DOH) with support from UN agencies. While Mobile Medical Units of international/ national NGOs for non-camp refugees provided (3774 consultations). Among camp-based consultations, 412 of them were related to mental health and psychosocial support.

- 1,065 patients were referred from the camp PHCC to secondary and tertiary health facilities in urban areas for further investigations and/or hospitalization.

- Preventive health services (immunization, growth monitoring, Ante natal care, family planning) were provided in refugee camps by DOH with support from UN agencies.

- UNICEF provided Infant and Young Child Feeding counselling assistance on appropriate breastfeeding to 1,561 pregnant and lactating women.

- Antenatal care and family planning services are available in all camps. They are provided by DOH with the support of UNFPA. 336 women attended one or more antenatal care sessions in the nine refugee camps.

NEEDS ANALYSIS

- Shortage of Medicines, especially medicines for chronic diseases, and human resources in public health facilities due to the ongoing financial crises in KR-I.

- Lack of awareness on available health services at governmental health facilities for non-camp refugees.

- Access to mental health and psychosocial support services remains limited for non-camp refugees and needs to be further expanded.

- Lack of community health outreach services in some refugee camps and needs to be expanded to other camps.
