3. WASH Updates
Funding Gaps. Brussels Conference	UNICEF is facing a funding gap of around USD 9.2 million for critical WASH operations in the camps for 2021. Because of that, UNICEF may reduce services by June onwards and might cease all services by end of September 2021. Other UN agencies are facing funding gaps as well; WFP faces a funding gap of around USD 16 million per month. UNICEF highlighted its funding gap regarding WASH in the camps in different fora: HDPG, HPF and in bilateral meetings with donors where they presented the challenges faced by the water sector. The sector chair Benjamin Smith provided a short update on the 5th Brussels Conference; The European Union and the United Nations will co-chair the 5th Brussels Conference on “Supporting the future of Syria and the region” on the 29th and the 30th March 2021. In view of the imposed COVID-19 restrictions, the conference will take place online. The overarching objective of Brussels Conferences is to continue supporting the Syrian people and to mobilise the international community in support of a comprehensive and credible political solution to the Syrian conflict, in line with the UN Security Council Resolution 2254. As with the four previous editions, Brussels V will also address the most critical humanitarian and resilience issues affecting Syrians and communities hosting refugees from Syria, both inside the country and in the region and will renew the international community’s political and financial support for Syria’s neighbours, particularly Jordan, Lebanon and Turkey, as well as Egypt and Iraq. Brussels V will be the main pledging event for Syria and the region in 2021.

Question: Are partners facing funding challenges as well?

ACF and ICM stated that it is very hard to secure funding for projects in the near future as most of the funding is steered to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. Currently, they have funds available for their ongoing projects. ICMC will conduct an impact assessment using the findings to develop proposals to be submitted to donors.

Ala'a (World Vision) stated that we need to define well what underfunding/funding gaps mean and how to better communicate that with donors; Ala'a provided an example on water supply in Azraq as a vital need and how important it is to sustain WASH services in all camps. He recommended WSWG to draft an advocacy document that all partners can use in their advocacy efforts for funding. The sector chair suggested to discuss this at the camp coordination level. World vision volunteered to provide support on developing the advocacy document through their communication department.

- The next activity is to expand the current water network into bloc level in the camp.
- Similar discussion is ongoing regarding the solid waste and wastewater disposal. A donor is interested in mobile treatment plant either next to or inside the camp. Himalaya Gautam suggested to discuss the latrine issue in the upcoming camps coordination meeting as 60 % of the refugees in the Azraq camps are using the communal latrines and maintenance is needed.
