REACH presented an overview of their preliminary findings from their longitudinal study of people displaced from Ukraine. They presented the research questions, methodologies, goals, and limitations. The important limitation of the study is that it's not representative and is dependent on protection profiling tools.

Erica provided an overview of the MSNA (to cater to people who were not in attendance at the previous meeting when REACH gave an overview) and reminded sector coordinators to provide feedback on the questionnaire before 29th June.

Erica & Andrii highlighted the upcoming partner training in July. The training will focus on how to report against the RRP indicators per and will be catered to each sector's reporting needs.

The Health sector mentioned that WHO conducted an online survey focusing on physiotherapists.

IOM mentioned their ongoing needs assessment that identifies the primary assistance and service needs of refugees. It also explores Ukrainians' and Third Country Nationals' (TCNs) demographic profile, journey they took, current situation and location, future intentions, main information channels they use to receive information, their access to work and other socio-economic opportunities, and indicators on protection and accountability to the affected populations.

The regional intention survey analysis using protection profiling data from Romania, Slovakia, Poland, Moldova, and Hungary country was mentioned. The survey should be coming out the first week of July.
