PROTECTION MONITORING EXERCISE

In July 2022, UNHCR conducted a systematic protection monitoring exercise through 200 interviews with migrants and asylum seekers in TRCs Borići, Ušivak and Blažuj. The exercise is part of the Regional Protection Monitoring System (RPMS) that focuses on balanced collection of both quantitative and qualitative protection information. The collected information will be analyzed taking into consideration demographic profile of the population on the move, including age, gender and diversity aspects as well as specific needs. It will also look into prevalence of protection incidents, including cross border dynamics, particularly regarding access to asylum and territory as well as patterns, drivers and routes of onward movements. The results of the analysis will be used to inform and support UNHCR's protection actions, planning and advocacy with the authorities.

Most interviewees were from Afghanistan, Cuba and Bangladesh, and a majority of them has left their countries of origin more than six months ago. Also a majority of interviewees indicated that the main reason for leaving their countries was threats to their lives. The second most invoked reason is limited access to employment, while the third is the generalized violence and insecurity. It can be noted that 59% of respondents said they had no information about asylum in BiH.

BURUNDI IN FOCUS

In July, 190 persons from Burundi irregularly arrived in the country, comparing to June when there were 374 arrivals, 141 in May and 17 in April. It is a significant increase in comparison with 2021 when just one arrival from Burundi was recorded. All persons from Burundi that arrived in BiH so far have expressed intention to seek asylum in BiH. In July, three persons from Burundi registered asylum claims in BiH, which were the first registrations for Burundi nationals. The protection rate of Burundian asylum seekers in the European Union reached 65% in 2021, including both refugee status and subsidiary protection (source EUAA). The number of applicants from Burundi in the EU started to increase in 2015, with an average of 900 applications per year since then, mostly in Belgium and France (source Eurostat).

In 2015 was the start of political tensions in Burundi, after an electoral crisis led to important demonstrations. The UN Commission of Inquiry on Burundi declared it "has reasonable grounds to believe that crimes against humanity have been committed and continue to be committed in Burundi since April 2015", in a context of serious human rights violations, including extrajudicial executions, arbitrary arrests and detention, torture, sexual violence, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment, and enforced disappearances (source OHCHR).

AVERAGE PROCESSING TIME** 2018-2022, as of 31 July

**Average processing time (days) from registration of asylum-claim to first-instance decision made at case level (not individual). The data only includes decisions made at first instance and does not factor in appealed decisions. ***Waiting time for registrations is calculated as the number of days between AISA issuance and the date when asylum claim was registered, at case level, excluding registrations conducted in Immigration Centre or prison.
