MOLDOVA
PSEA Network Factsheet
N. 1 | September 2022

Background
Moldova hosts over 88,780 refugees from Ukraine. While some people move on to the European Union, arrivals of refugees continue to be registered each day. 85% of people staying in the country are women, elderly persons and children.

Considering the emergency and the scale of the humanitarian needs, risks of sexual exploitation and abuse tend to increase due to prevailing gender norms and dynamics, the profile of the refugee population, barriers to access specialized services and ongoing reliance on humanitarian aid to meet basic needs.

With over 1400 international and national staff* working to support both development and humanitarian activities in Moldova, protections against sexual misconduct is a foremost priority.

Key Inter-Agency Achievements

- 225 Humanitarian and development actors trained on PSEA in 2022 (+250 to be trained throughout September)
- 1600 Copies of information material in Romanian, Ukrainian and Russian printed and distributed to raise awareness on PSEA.
- Training of green line staff on safe referrals and handling sensitive complaints, including SEA.
- SEA Complaint Referral and Assistance to Survivors SOP (implementation workshop to be held in September).
- PSEA Focal Points ToRs developed, and focal points for organizations working on the refugee response in Moldova identified.
- Annual Work Plan developed by the UN System in Moldova since 2020 complemented by an annual Work Plan of the Refugee Coordination Forum PSEA Network.
- Implementing Partners PSEA Capacity Assessments mapped among UN Entities to improve coordination.
- First Training of Trainers on PSEA for National Organizations and NGOs

Objective

The PSEA Network is an independent inter-agency body for PSEA coordination in the context of Refugee Response in Moldova, promoting awareness, prevention, and oversight on protection from sexual exploitation and abuse by international and national personnel of the entities providing services to refugees in Moldova. Every humanitarian and development worker in the country has the obligation to understand their role and responsibilities and ensure refugee and host community members can access humanitarian assistance with dignity and safety. The primary objective of the PSEA Network is to support organizations working in the country to develop capacity on protection against sexual exploitation and abuse, including assistance to survivors.

The PSEA Network aims to:

- Promote minimum standards on the prevention and protection from sexual exploitation and abuse (PSEA) by Humanitarian and development organizations in Moldova.
- Ensure timely and coordinated assistance to survivors of sexual exploitation and abuse in line with established gender-based violence and child protection referral pathways and Standard Operating Procedures.
- Implement a common approach to the recording and referral of sexual exploitation and abuse complaints received through existing confidential channels that are continuously maintained by organizations in Moldova.

Upcoming Activities

Community consultations on SEA and complaints feedback mechanisms (CFM) will take place during October and November. Based on results, PSEA Network and partners improve communication materials and activities on SEA, as well as adaptation of complaint and feedback mechanisms.

Community and service provider awareness on PSEA will be expanded to local refugee coordination forums in Cahul, Gagauzia, Balti and Unhgeni to increase awareness on PSEA through messaging and joint-training activities with host communities and local authorities.

Together with the gender-based violence and child protection sub-working, the PSEA Network members will keep working on the integration of SEA activities to existing GBV and CP programmes and procedures.

Currently, 48 partners are part of the he PSEA Network in Moldova with a designated a focal point to ensure we all share a common responsibility on preventing, mitigating risk and responding to sexual misconduct:
