

Following the outbreak of armed conflict in Sudan on 15 April 2023, growing numbers of refugees, returnees and third country nationals have been crossing into neighbouring countries.

As of 28 April, the most significant cross border movements in the region have been Sudanese refugees arriving in Chad, mixed movements into Egypt, and South Sudanese returning to South Sudan. Sudanese refugees have also arrived in the Central African Republic (CAR).

The main arrivals to Ethiopia have been third country nationals, with some refugees also arriving, among which are small numbers of refugees previously hosted by Sudan and Ethiopia. UNHCR has not yet registered any refugees arriving in Libya.

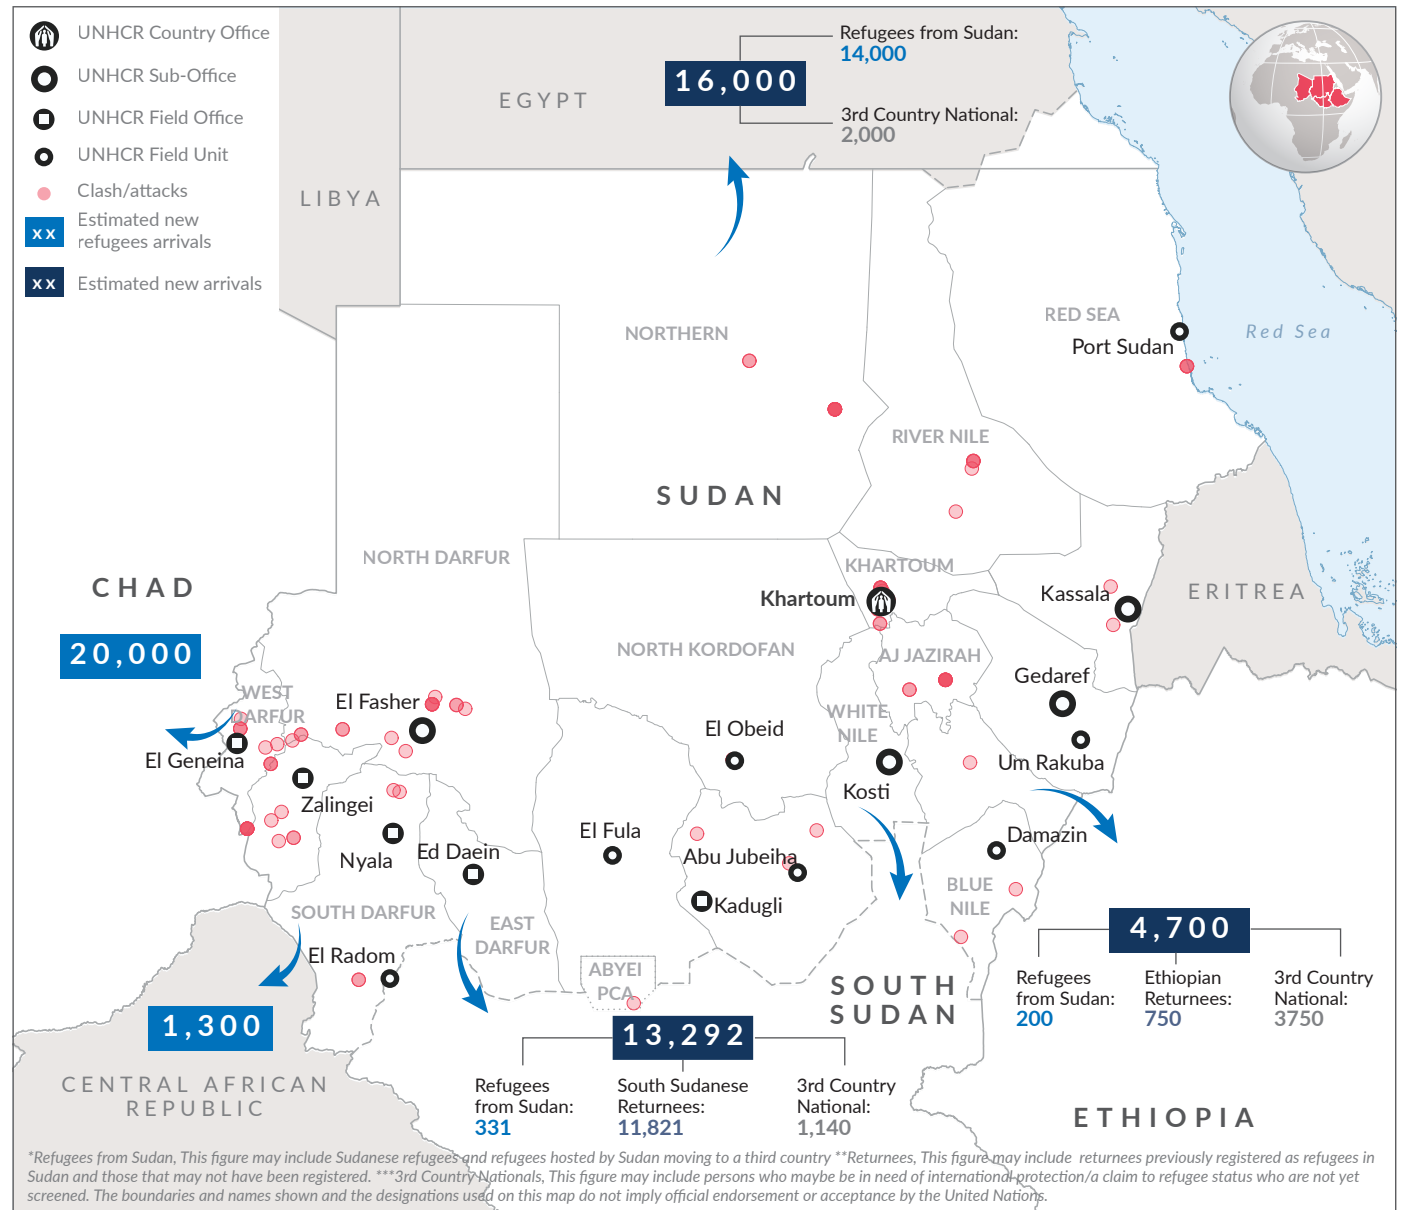

Refugees and asylum-seekers in Sudan by country of origin
1.13 million existing refugee population in Sudan

Refugees and asylum-seekers in Sudan neighboring countries

Sources: UNHCR, IOM, MFA, South Sudan Relief and Rehabilitation Commission

*Refugees from Sudan, This figure may include Sudanese refugees and refugees hosted by Sudan moving to a third country Returnees, This figure may include returnees previously registered as refugees in Sudan and those that may not have been registered. 3rd Country Nationals, This figure may include persons who maybe be in need of international protection/a claim to refugee status who are not yet screened. The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations.