

Compass Bulgaria Network of Protection and Inclusion Centres

Overview

The Compass Network of Protection and Inclusion Centres is a joint initiative between UNHCR and partners Bulgarian Red Cross, Ukraine Support and Renovation Foundation, Energy Association Varna, Caritas Bulgaria, and Foundation for Access to Rights in six refugee-hosting cities in Bulgaria spanning Sofia, Plovdiv, Burgas, Varna, Dobrich, and Ruse. These are protection and inclusion community centres established to promote collective empowerment, integration, and social cohesion for refugees of all nationalities and vulnerable people among the local host communities alike, through comprehensive support tailored to their diverse needs. The Compass Network provides crucial context-dependent activities for the well-being of all, as well as it promotes social cohesion between refugee and host communities through regular community events, workshops, and dialogues focused on mutual understanding and acceptance. The centres complement services offered by the national/regional authorities and the municipalities with activities addressing mid-to-longer term needs of refugees, including language, cultural and livelihood. Services are available since the beginning of 2024.
