UPDATE ON ACHIEVEMENTS

Operational Context

- As the conflict in Syria continues, the number of people fleeing into other countries in the region in search of refuge continues. New arrivals of Syrians into Egypt, however, remain very low since the introduction on 8 July 2013 of visa requirements for Syrians entering the country. UNHCR has registered 136,292 individuals as of 31 January. Most Syrians in Egypt are scattered in urban neighborhoods, renting and sharing accommodation, and benefiting from access to public services in education and health care. UNHCR conducts registration, provides counseling, and works with partners to provide legal assistance and address the social, education and health needs of vulnerable Syrians in Egypt. UNHCR also operates helplines for inquiries and counseling.
- The refugee response in Egypt will continue to address the rights and needs of Syrian refugees in Egypt, in the three main urban centers where the majority are located in addition to advocacy with the government.
- The 3RP Resilience component lead by UNDP will aim on bringing together humanitarian and resilience-based responses to achieve common objectives such the protection and support for Syrians refugees and host communities. As the aim of the 3RP plan is to target impacted local communities as well as Syrian refugees.

Protection

Irregular Movements

- During 2014, more than 1,400 Syrian nationals have been arrested for attempting to irregularly depart Egypt, including children and women. The Egyptian authorities have been conducting regular releases of groups of individuals from detention shortly after their arrest. Authorities are issuing three to six months residency permits to Syrians who are released.
- UNHCR is aware of 18 Syrians nationals and 58 Palestinians from Syria are being held at several detention facilities in Alexandria and its surrounding governorates, for attempting to depart or entry Egypt in an irregular manner.
- Since the beginning of 2015, UNHCR has been alerted of the arrest of 6 Syrian nationals at Cairo International Airport for reasons related to either possession of forged renewal of national passport (received from Turkey) or forged Egyptian residency permits, which confirms a new trend. UNHCR advocacy with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs resulted in the release of four of them, who are in the process of regularizing their stay in Egypt, while the two other individuals remain in detention.
- UNHCR's partners, Caritas and Resala and PSTIC, have been providing emergency assistance to detainees in the form of food, blankets and medical care and psycho-social support. IOM has also provided assistance in the form of sanitary kits and non-food items.

This was a part of the funds received from the Big Heart Foundation.
- The number of new Syrian students enrolled in public universities has reached 5,520 students in this academic year (2014-2015) through advocacy efforts with Egypt's Ministry of Higher Education.
