MOVEMENT COOPERATION PROGRAMME

RED CROSS-RED CRESCENT MOVEMENT COOPERATION PROGRAMME

Thousands of people have lost their lives and millions of people were affected by the crisis due to the conflicts between Syrian government and demonstrators, which has started in March 15th, 2011 and has spread nation-wide with the demonstrations in April 2011. More than 5 million people had to leave the country and approximately 12.2 million people were internally displaced or were in need of humanitarian aid. As of June, more than 3.1 million Syrians live in our country which is the largest host country of Syrian refugees. More than 2.8 million of them live in city centers.

November, 2012, Turkish Red Crescent launched an International Appeal for the Syrian humanitarian crisis with the IFRC support. Since that day, within the scope of the Appeal, humanitarian aid operations are being carried out and many services ranging from food to psychosocial services are being given to Syrians under temporary protection status. Within this framework, as part of the Syrian Crisis Humanitarian Aid Activities, Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement Cooperations Programme was established in March 25th, 2016 within Migration and Refugee Services Department to manage and to provide the collaborations provided by the National Societies, IFRC, and ICRC.

Within Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement Cooperations Programme, projects are being developed directed to the need of beneficiaries in coordination with partner institutions.

Support To Urban Refugees Project

- The project has been started to provide hot meals to Syrians living in Ankara since the number of Syrians living outside the camps are relatively higher than the number of Syrians living at camps and since their vulnerability has increased.

- The facility improvement is completed with the support of IFRC and now the Soup Kitchen is able to reach more people with improved conditions. The goal of this project is to provide two hot meals daily to Syrians and Iraqis living in Ankara. Turkish Red Crescent Ankara Branch has been providing hot meal to those in need (generally Syrians). Up to people provided with food (hot meal) per day from the Ulucanlar Kitchen.

● Şehit Serhat Önder Child Protection Center started to provide services in March 2017, in which activities, workshops, seminars and trainings are organized under various topics to provide psychosocial support to children in the Child Friendly Space and Youth Friendly Space for 6-18 age group. At the center, a need-based education method is followed. The center also monitors the psychological and developmental processes of the children and the related activities are carried out by the relevant professional experts.

The meals from Turkish Red Crescent Ankara Branch Soup Kitchen are served to children who come to the center both in the morning and in the afternoon. There is also shuttle for children to come to the center. For the first time, transportation service in education started with this Project in Turkey.

Until now,

benefitted from the Center's activities.

Turkish Red Crescent and UNICEF created collective access teams to engage and evaluate a significant proportion of the families in the disadvantaged group who have the necessary conditions to benefit from CCTE (15 in the first stage). These teams ensure that problems in the field of child protection, including domestic violence, child labor and child marriage, are identified and referral to relevant services is provided.
