MOVEMENT COOPERATION PROGRAMME

RED CROSS-RED CRESCENT MOVEMENT COOPERATION PROGRAMME

Thousands of people have lost their lives and millions of people were affected by the crisis due to the conflicts between Syrian government and demonstrators, which has started in March 15th, 2011 and has spread nation-wide with the demonstrations in April 2011. More than 5 million people had to leave the country and approximately 12.2 million people were internally displaced or were in need of humanitarian aid. As of June, more than 3 million Syrians live in our country which is the largest host country of Syrian refugees. More than 2.8 million of them live in city centers.

November, 2012, Turkish Red Crescent launched an International Appeal for the Syrian humanitarian crisis with the IFRC support. Since that day, within the scope of the Appeal, humanitarian aid operations are being carried out and many services ranging from food to psychosocial services are being given to Syrians under temporary protection status. Within this framework, as part of the Syrian Crisis Humanitarian Aid Activities, Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement Cooperations Programme was established in March 25th, 2016 within Migration and Refugee Services Department to manage and to provide the collaborations provided by the National Societies, IFRC, and ICRC.

Within Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement Cooperations Programme, projects are being developed directed to the need of beneficiaries in coordination with partner institutions.
