

During 2017, food sector partners have reached approximately 2.4 million individuals with food assistance through cash, voucher or in kind modality. Over 3,000 individuals received food and agricultural livelihoods support while almost 11,500 individuals have been supported to improve nutritional practices. Highlights across the region in July include:

In Iraq, a resilience pilot project to train Syrian refugees in digital skills and online freelancing was launched at the American University of Iraq – Sulaymaniyah, with 100 refugees from Arbat camp being recruited and trained until 30 August. In Jordan, Food Sector partners completed a review of their current targeting model for the general food assistance programme to Syrian refugees, examining changes in refugee vulnerability over time. Three potential models were developed to inform future targeting decisions. In Egypt, 88,200 vulnerable refugees from Syria are supported through various activities, including: general food distribution, nutrition support, vocational trainings, capacity enhancement and access to schemes for small business start-up grants.
