Host Countries

*DRC - Democratic Republic of Congo

*CAR - Central African Republic

Operational Context

- As result of UNHCR and other humanitarian actors' regular visits to Lasu, dozens of refugees are returning to the refugee settlement. However, the movement of warring parties to the hide-out locations of refugees has created fear among the refugees as lootings, rapes, harassment have been reported by refugees. UNHCR has begun protection advocacy with both parties to the conflict so that they leave Lasu settlement as a "free zone".

Update on Achievements

PROTECTION

Achievements and Impact

Unity

- In Yida refugee settlement, UNHCR registered 1,323 newly arrived refugees Sudanese refugees (718 females, 605 males), which represent a 142% increase compared to the same period in 2017 when 547 newly arrived refugees were registered. Food shortage and lack of education opportunities in South Kordofan were reportedly the main reasons for fleeing into South Sudan.
- During the reporting period, UNHCR relocated 1,906 refugees to Jamjang camps, including 409 to Ajuong Thok and 1,497 to Pamir. This number also includes 808 refugees previously settled in Yida and 1,098 new arrivals. As of 31 March, the refugee population across Jamjang camps and settlement is as follows: Ajuong Thok - 43,055, Pamir - 25,023, Yida refugee settlement - 51, 967.
- 24 incidents of Sexual and Gender Based Violence (SGBV) including physical assault (13), psychosocial abuse (4), emotional abuse (6) and rape (1) were reported in Ajuong Thok (9) and Pamir (12) refugee camps and Yida (3) refugee settlement. All survivors are supported with individual counselling and psychosocial support by UNHCR and its protection partner International Rescue Committee (IRC).
- In Pamir refugee camp, IRC commenced SGBV screening activities at the maternity ward in Hope Health Centre. 122 females above 15 years old were sensitized on SGBV screening. Out of the screened number of females, 26 were found to be survivors of SGBV and 8 of them were referred for psychosocial support, while 3 were referred for further medical support.
- IRC conducted an SGBV awareness raising session through Jamjang FM on "harmful traditional practices as an agent of hindrance" of youth to acquire education, especially girls and women. The programme aims to educate the community on the dangers of such harmful traditional practices.
- In Pariang County, formal court system began its function. As a result, UNHCR observes court sessions of cases that involve refugees. The Commission for Refugee Affairs (CRA) and UNHCR provide transportation of refugees/witnesses from the camps to attend court sessions.
- To enhance safety for children attending Child Friendly Spaces (CFS) and Early Childhood Development (ECD) activities, UNHCR partner Lutheran World Federation (LWF) conducted information session to 150 parents and parent-teacher associations (PTA).
