MAURITANIA EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Out-of-camp Malians in Hodh Chargui

as of 31 January 2024

Context

The recent escalation in the humanitarian and security crisis in Mali has precipitated a marked increase in the flow of forcibly displaced individuals into neighboring Mauritania, particularly impacting the south-eastern border region of Hodh Chargui. This influx of new arrivals exacerbates the already critical strain onservices and natural resources in a region that is acutely vulnerable to climate-related shocks.

Key figures

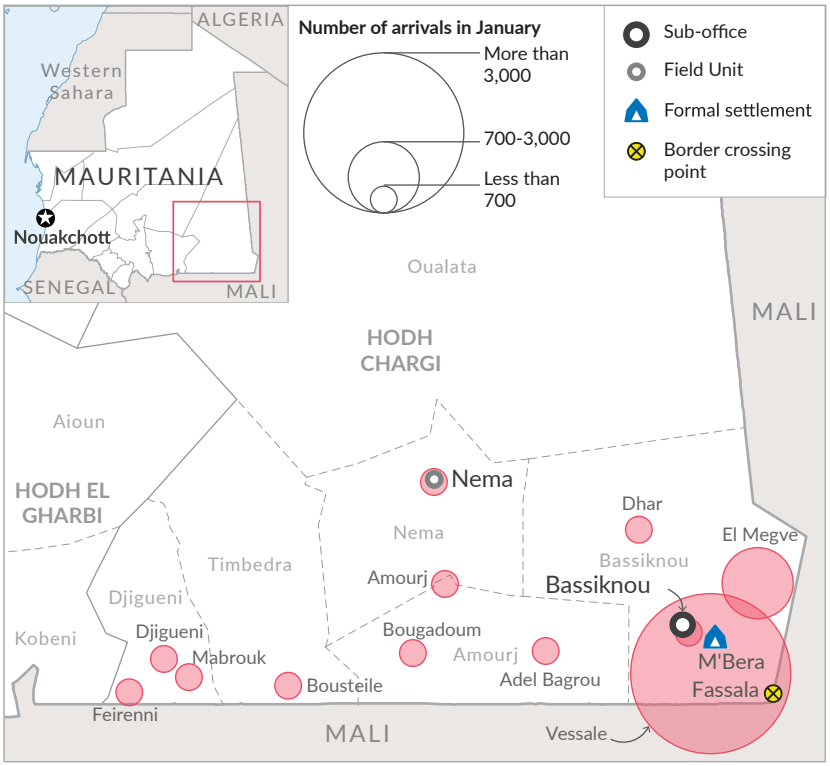
71,301
Total Malian refugees

14,410
Total arrivals in January

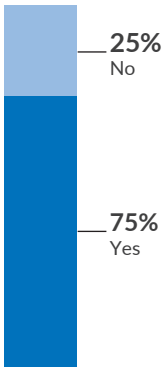
5,011
Women arrivals in Jan.

6,322
Children arrivals in Jan.

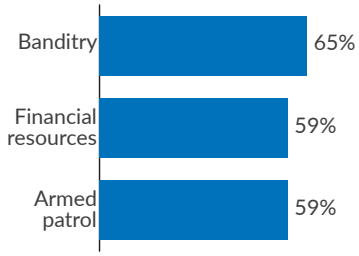
Arrivals in January by commune



Difficulty along the journey

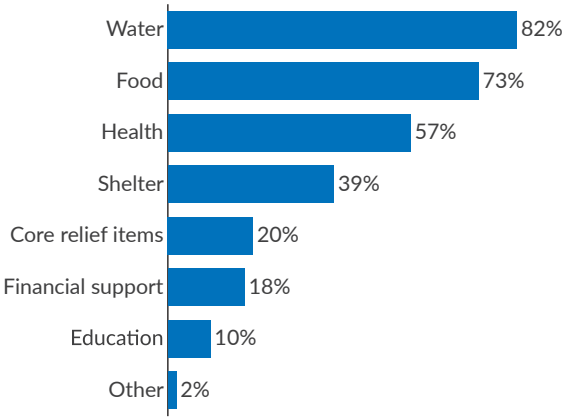


Difficulty by type

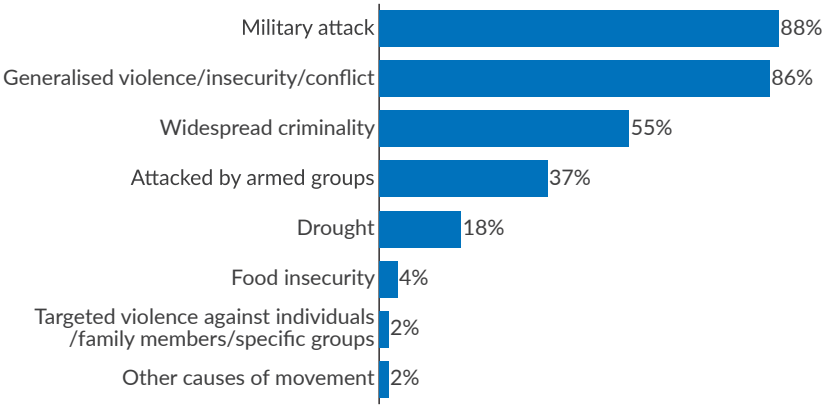


Region of origin (as identified by key informants)

Priority needs in host villages



Reasons to leave Mali



Sources: UNHCR

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations.