IOM NFIs distribution in Turkey

HIGHLIGHTS

- ➔ Jordan: IOM is organizing a donor visit in early November in the north of Jordan to observe IOM's emergency transportation assistance activities for Syrian refugees.
- ➔ Iraq: IOM completed a Rapid Assessment highlighting the urgent needs of Syrian nationals residing in host communities outside of camps in the Anbar governorate. The report includes recommendations on the best ways to address their needs.

SITUATION OVERVIEW

JORDAN

There are 58,622 UNHCR-registered Syrian refugees in Jordan and an additional 31,094 with registration appointments.¹ The Jordanian government estimates that some 200,000 Syrians have entered the country since March 2011.

The weather at Za'atri camp is changing rapidly, underlining the need for winter items, winterized tents and the installment of a drainage system for the camp.

LEBANON

The number of Syrians receiving protection and assistance in Lebanon through the efforts of the Government of Lebanon, IOM, UN and NGO partners has now reached approximately 100,000. To date, 72,301 refugees are registered with UNHCR and an additional 29,311 have been in contact with UNHCR to be registered. Out of the total registered population, there are 38,462 refugees in North Lebanon, 29,792 in Bekaa and 2,186 in Beirut. This week, the majority of individuals have come from Homs, Qusayr, Damascus, Zabadani, Rif Damascus and Tal Kalakh.

During the reporting period, an influx of some 1,700 refugees (357 families) entered Aarsal in the Bekaa, arriving from villages in Homs where violence has reportedly escalated. An additional few hundred families entered through Mashari al Qaa, of whom 500 refugees (100 families) and 250 Lebanese returnees (50 families) have remained in the area with the rest continuing through to Aarsal.

IRAQ

There are 41,955 UNHCR-registered Syrian refugees in Iraq.² According to the Bureau of Migration and Displacement, the total number of registered Syrian individuals in the Kurdistan region is 27,851. Of this number, 13,000 are living in Domiz camp in Dahuk. The remainder of registered individuals are primarily living in rented houses or hosted in government buildings.

At Al Qaim camp in Anbar, the Ministry of Migration and Displacement (MoMD) reports 7,889 individual Syrians living among its two camps. The 1,000 families in both camps report an increase in the incidence of diarrhea cases and poor health services. There is also an urgent need for hygiene kits. Several Syrian families report they want to return to Syria from Al Qaim camps after Eid due to lack of NFIs and overcrowding.

IOM staff in Anbar report that Syrian families are able to live outside of the camp if they know an Iraqi citizen who will vouch for them. There are 585 Syrian families living in Anbar with relatives or host families outside of the camps.³

Since 18 July, the total number of Iraqi returnees is 47,052 (UNHCR). Returnees typically reside with host families and are in need of NFIs, food, legal assistance, shelter, employment, and education.

TURKEY

Currently, 101,834 Syrians are registered and being accommodated in 14 camps in seven provinces in Turkey.⁴

Officials in the camps reported that they have already started providing heaters, additional blankets, and clothing to the refugees. They have also begun replacing the existing tents in Şanlıurfa-Akçakale with winterized tents.

COUNTRY OPERATIONS

1. Jordan Operations

Emergency Transportation of Refugees

In the past week, IOM facilitated transportation assistance from border areas to Za'atri camp for 1,395 Syrian nationals. Since 29 July, IOM has facilitated the transportation of 43,832 Syrians from border areas to Za'atri Camp.

Health Services

IOM provides initial health screening, and health referrals as needed, for all Syrian refugees arriving at the Za'atri camp as part of the transportation assistance services. In total, IOM provided health checks to 659 individuals with medical conditions requiring immediate referral or treatment at the camp's health clinics. In addition, the IOM medical team attends bi-weekly Za'atri camp health coordination meetings.

Since March 2012, IOM screened 23,208 Syrians for tuberculosis (TB) and provided 24,545 Syrians with TB awareness-raising activities in the camp, transit centres, and host communities in Jordan. IOM's medical team confirmed 12 TB cases and is providing follow-up treatment for all cases. In addition, IOM is currently investigating suspected TB cases and screening people that were in contact with the confirmed cases.

IOM is organizing a donor visit in early November to the north of Jordan to observe IOM emergency transportation assistance activities for Syrian refugees.

2. Lebanon Operations

Provision of Emergency Non-Food Items (NFIs) – Winter Kits

The onset of the winter season continues to be the most pressing concern for a large proportion of Syrian refugees and Lebanese returnees. From 16 October to 23 October, IOM distributed winter kits⁵ and shelter sealing items⁶ based on each family's need.

In Baalbeck, Hermel, and Central and West Bekaa, 403 Lebanese returnees (65 families) and 1,093 Syrians (192 families) received winter kits and shelter sealing items. In North Lebanon, in the towns of Wadi Khaled and Akroum, 267 Lebanese returnees (46 families) and 881 Syrians (138 families) received winter kits and shelter sealing items.

Moreover, IOM started mapping and profiling newly arrived Lebanese returnees who recently fled into Lebanon and settled in the North (Wadi Khaled), the Bekaa (Hermel) and the South (Saida and Nabatieh).

Psychosocial Support Services

For the third time (from 16 to 19 October), IOM organized a psychosocial forum for Syrian refugees and Lebanese returnees in Baalbeck. The forum was convened and organized at DARI, Recreational and Counseling Centre for Families.

This event served as an opportunity for capacity building of local caregivers on child protection and hygiene promotion. They were sensitized on how to create safe spaces for children to play and receive support while also having to deal with the harsh realities of violence and conflict they are facing. The programme included:

- 1) Training and resources for teachers, educators and community workers on learning difficulties, child protection, positive discipline and psychosocial activities
- 2) Interactive and occupational games, learning tools, handicrafts and other participatory activities in relation to Child Rights and Child Participation. The team is enlarging the scope of these activities, in order to integrate those who are in need of counseling support in the specialized services delivered at DARI.

3. Iraq Operations

Provision of Emergency Non-Food Items (NFIs)

IOM field staff visit camps and MoMD branches on a regular basis in addition to conducting site visits and family interviews order to monitor numbers, circumstances, and needs of refugees and returnees.

On 18 October, 18 gas stoves were distributed to 72 Syrian individuals in Domiz camp. IOM will distribute winter kits⁷ Syrians in Domiz camp as part of the winterization plan coordinated by UNHCR who is distributing other items.

⁵ Winter kits include blankets and carpet.

⁶ Shelter sealing items include plastic sheets (floor and roof), sieve nets, ropes, nylon, pins, and hammer.

⁷ These kits are composed of: kerosene heaters, carpets, plastic cabinets, and rechargeable lights

In Al Qaim camp, IOM is planning the distribution of 750 winter kits to Syrians. Field staff in Anbar is working in coordination with MoMD and UNHCR to deliver the kits no later than 15 November. IOM also plans to distribute 500 winter kits to Syrians living outside camps in Anbar.

To date, IOM has distributed NFI kits to over 4,000 Syrian refugees in Iraq.

Rapid Assessment of Syrians in Host Communities in Anbar

Fighting in Syria has left hundreds of families displaced along the Iraq-Syria border. The IOM Rapid Assessment and Response Team (RART) was made aware of numerous Syrian families that had been displaced in a number of cities in the governorate of Anbar, who have either been living in schools, mosques or hosted by relatives.

In close coordination with MoMD and the local authorities at the governorate level, IOM RART staff carried out an emergency needs assessment in Rawa, Anah and Al Qaim and identified a total of 585 vulnerable families in need of urgent assistance.

As a result of the assessment, it was determined that Syrian refugee families are distributed among 3 major cities in the Anbar governorate:

Location	# of Syrian families
Al Qaim	450
Rawah	90
Anah	45
Total families	585

IOM visits to Anah and Rawah showed that these families are in need of education, employment, and NFIs. Specific NFI needs include mattresses, blankets, pillows, plastic mats, kerosene heaters, stoves, kitchen supplies, soaps/cleaning products, and rechargeable lights.

IOM organized a meeting with the members of the local council of Al Qaim who stressed the importance of supporting the Syrian families outside the camps and living with host communities. As a result, IOM came to an agreement with the local authorities on the date and methodology of an emergency distribution of 700 NFIs to these vulnerable families.

Single Mother Iraqi Returnee Story

On 20 October, the IOM Iraq RART team conducted a follow-up visit of a single mother Iraqi returnee with five children. She initially reached out to IOM for help on 13 August.

In 2006, she was forced to flee Iraq due to the fact that her husband was wanted by militias and the entire family was in danger. The family moved to Syria where her youngest child was born with mental and physical disabilities.

The outbreak of violence in Syria prompted her return to Iraq where she has been living with her brother in his small and overcrowded house since 14 July. She was forced to make the painful decision of splitting up each child to stay with various relatives due to the fact that her brother could not support them all with his job as a taxi driver.

To assist this vulnerable Iraqi returnee and her family, IOM coordinated with two local surgical doctors to provide a free medical check-up and medication for her cancer. IOM also facilitated the provision of a wheelchair for her youngest child and primary health care for her entire family. The returnee was extremely thankful for the assistance and IOM continues to make periodic follow-up visits.

4. Turkey Operations

Provision of Emergency Non-Food Items (NFIs)

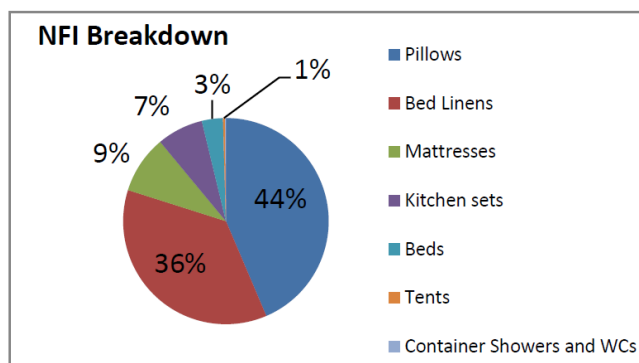

IOM staff visited Karkami camps on 17-18 October to monitor the installation and operation of the 15 containers (showers and WCs) delivered by IOM to the camp for installment in cooperation with the Turkish Red Crescent (Kizilay). During the monitoring field visit, staff ascertained that 10 out of 15 containers were operational whereas the remaining five were assembled and ready to be placed in the camp for use this week. AFAD (Disaster and Emergency Management Presidency) and Kizilay expressed their satisfaction with the quality and delivery of the IOM-supplied containers, and requested more of the same containers in the future.

To date, IOM has distributed a total of 27,625 NFIs including essential household items such as, beds, mattresses, bed linens, kitchen sets, pillows, tents and containers (showers and latrines) to five different camp sites in Turkey.⁸

Emergency Repatriation of Migrant Workers

On 22 October, IOM facilitated the repatriation of an Indonesian female migrant worker to her country of origin. The stranded migrant from Indonesia was referred to IOM by the MFA after residing in the camp for six months. IOM Turkey coordinated with the Embassy of Indonesia and arranged the travel and safe exit.
