

Daily Report

Arrivals and Departures

During the period of 2-8 May, media sources reported that some 272 people were apprehended, intercepted and/or rescued near Turkey's shores. Their nationalities were mainly Afghan, Pakistani, Syrian, and Uzbek. According statistics from Turkish Land Forces, 255 people were apprehended at Turkey's land borders (112 at the Turkey - Bulgaria border and 143 at the Turkey - Greek border).

Condition of People

On 9 May, the Mayor of Lagkada, Yannis Karagiannis, visited the Lagadikia facility. UNHCR is supporting the Greek authorities with the management of this accommodation site; with support from the Danish Refugee Council. As of 10 May, the site hosts 620 people of which 88% are Syrian nationals and 12% are from Iraq. Most people were transferred from the Eidomeni makeshift site and EKO gas station. The Mayor of Lagkada noted the satisfactory living standards, the adequate healthcare and the good cooperation of UNHCR with local authorities. He also mentioned to the media that the facility operated in an exemplary manner. He specified that the authorities will enhance garbage collection and staff presence.

The Greek Asylum Service will launch an "asylum app" that will provide access to various information (asylum procedure, but also facts on Greece and weather) by the beginning of July. A team from the Harokopio University works together with experts of the Asylum Service registering the needs of refugees and adapting the application to their profile. By using the app, which will be available in nine languages, people will also be able to see the date of the next available Skype appointment.

Critical Development

The prospects for a trilateral cooperation in sectors such as security, the refugee crisis, culture, energy, and water resources management will be the focus of a trilateral meeting between Greece, Cyprus, and Lebanon to be held at the Foreign Ministry in Athens on Wednesday, 11 May. During the meeting, matters concerning relations between the EU and Lebanon, such as refugee resettlement, will be discussed as well.

UNHCR in Greece will actively participate at this year's conference on the "future of healthcare in Greece" to take place on Tuesday 17 May in Athens. Leading political and healthcare stakeholders, together with representatives from WHO, OECD, World Bank, European Committee, and EIB, as well as government and industry representatives, and renowned academics, will debate inter alia the issue of the current refugee and migrant crisis and its healthcare implications.

CNN International: Oscar-winning actor Javier Bardem, in collaboration with MSF and Medics Under Fire, spoke out about the situation concerning the targeting of medical workers in areas of war and conflict. This comes after Al-Quds hospital was destroyed by bombing two weeks ago, killing 'at least 50' people and injuring more than 60 people. Among those that died was the 'last known paediatrician...in rebel-held Aleppo'. According to the article, there now remains only 25 doctors in the Syrian city of Aleppo as opposed to a previous 5,000 since the start of the conflict five years ago.

According to a 2015 regional situation report by WHO, 57% of 113 public hospitals and 51% of 1,783 public health centres were either partially functioning or closed down.

Annex 1 Key Figures from the Portal

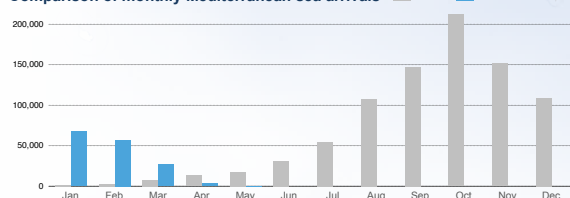

Increasing numbers of refugees and migrants take their chances aboard unseaworthy boats and dinghies in a desperate bid to reach Europe. The vast majority of those attempting this dangerous crossing are in need of international protection, fleeing war, violence and persecution in their country of origin. Every year these movements continue to exact a devastating toll on human life.
