JULY HIGHLIGHTS

In camps: a total of 55,817 Syrian refugees received assistance from WFP in July 2017 under the regional Protracted Relief and Recovery Operation (PRRO). All beneficiaries received IQD 22,000 (USD 19) per beneficiary, per month. Data collection by WFP and UNHCR for the Joint Vulnerability Assessment (JVA) of Syrian refugees started late July 2017 in Dohuk, Erbil and Sulaymaniyah, both inside and outside camps. Preliminary findings on the food security levels and livelihoods of refugees are expected to be available as of late August 2017.

WFP launched a resilience pilot project to train Syrian refugees in digital skills and online freelancing. The training is taking place at the American University of Iraq – Sulaymaniyah and supported by WFP's Innovation Accelerator, based in Munich. 100 refugees from Arbat camp have been recruited and will be trained until 30 August 2017.

FAO, in collaboration with Directorates of Agriculture, is planning trainings on greenhouse vegetable production for Syrian refugees in two camps (Qushtapa in Erbil and Domiz 1 in Duhok).

In non-camp areas: to reduce long-term dependence on emergency food assistance and enable people to recover as quickly as possible, FAO has assisted 1,440 persons (Syrian Refugees and members of impacted host community (720 persons in Khabat area in Erbil and 720 persons in Amadia area in Duhok). The assistance included: 5,760 hens (23 hens/family), drinking equipment and 48 metric tons of poultry feeding. This assistance will provide meat (30 Kg/family/year), eggs and incomes from the sale of surplus eggs.
