AUGUST HIGHLIGHTS

In camps: A total of 56,012 Syrian refugees received assistance from WFP in August 2017 under the regional Protracted Relief and Recovery Operation (PRRO).

All beneficiaries received IQD 22,000 (USD 19) per beneficiary, per month.

Findings from the Joint Vulnerability Assessment (JVA) of Syrian refugees are expected to be available in mid-August 2017. These will be further analysed and triangulated with other data collected. Ultimately, the results of the assessment will produce a set of targeting indicators, which will enable a needs-based refinement of targeting.

WFP's resilience pilot to train 100 Syrian refugees in digital skills and online freelancing concluded in August 2017. A graduation ceremony was held at the American University in Sulaymaniyah, where 90 students out of the 100 received their certificates. Graduating students received their conditional assistance covering the month of August 2017. Of the graduating students, 22 were placed in internships, starting in the coming weeks. Planning is underway to scale-up this conditional assistance.

FAO, in collaboration with Directorates of Agriculture, completed a training course on bee keeping in the agriculture directorates where beneficiaries received all the items related to the production of honey. beneficiaries were also trained on cucumber production in greenhouses set up in Qushtapa camp.
