- The legend is organized into three columns. The first column contains symbols for political entities: a yellow square for Capital, a blue circle with a white building for UNHCR Representation, a blue circle with a white castle for UNHCR Sub office, a blue circle with a red emblem for UNHCR Field office, a green circle with a white emblem for UNHCR Presence, a green line with arrows for International boundary, a black dashed line for Provincial border, and a red line for Main road. The second column lists corresponding labels: Main town or village, Refugee settlement, Refugee camp, Refugee location, Urban refugee location, Returnee centre, IDP settlement, and Secondary road. The third column shows elevation ranges with color-coded boxes: 3,250 to 4,000 metres (light grey), 2,500 to 3,250 metres (brown), 1,750 to 2,500 metres (tan), 1,000 to 1,750 metres (light brown), 750 to 1,000 metres (yellowish-brown), 500 to 750 metres (light green), 250 to 500 metres (medium green), 0 to 250 metres (bright green), and Below mean sea level (dark green).
