

The 2022 South Sudan Regional RRP articulates the protection and humanitarian needs of an anticipated 2,329,400 South Sudanese refugees by the end of 2022. The RRRP outlines the inter-agency response strategy and financial requirements of 102 partners responding across five countries of asylum. As the protracted emergency enters its ninth year, it remains the largest refugee situation on the African continent. It continues to be characterised as a children's crisis with children constituting over 65 percent of the refugee population. The sheer scale of forced displacement is putting immense pressure on hosting countries and greater responsibility-sharing in a spirit of solidarity is needed. In line with the Global Compact on Refugees, RRRP partners plan to advance refugee integration into national systems, such as education, health, environment, livelihoods, child protection and community-based protection mechanisms, and birth registration. A key priority in 2022 will be promoting socio-economic inclusion and access to livelihoods opportunities for urban and camp-based refugees and mitigating chronic food insecurity. RRRP partners endeavour to increase refugees' self-reliance and resilience while moving towards more durable systems. In the pursuit of solutions, RRRP partners seek to equip South Sudanese refugees with the necessary skills, education and knowledge transfer related to livelihoods to prepare refugees for future opportunities and to make their eventual return sustainable. Several RRRP activities are linked to projects being developed in the framework of the Solutions Initiative for Sudan and South Sudan, which was launched in October 2020 and which involves generating and sustaining the political commitment for solutions, while pursuing a comprehensive and government-led approach to the operationalization of the political commitments.

2022 STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

The 2022 RRRP for the South Sudan situation is guided by the following regional strategic objectives:

1. Upholding the quality of asylum for South Sudanese refugees in the region, the majority of whom are women and children, by meeting their lifesaving needs and upholding their dignity according to applicable minimum standards;
2. Providing lifesaving support including preventing and responding to GBV as well as contributing to GBV risk mitigation across the response;
3. Anchoring the response within national and regional multi-year protection frameworks, policies, laws, and standards which comprehensively address legal and physical protection needs of South Sudanese refugees with a particular emphasis on children, women and youth through an age, gender and diversity-sensitive approach;
4. Enhancing biometric registration, documentation and data management in collaboration with host governments to support implementation of durable solutions strategies;
5. Proactively exploring and, where applicable, pursuing innovative approaches based on participatory assessments with refugees, governments, humanitarian and development actors, the private sector, and civil society, with a view to systematically expanding Cash-Based Interventions (CBIs), livelihoods activities and other initiatives aimed at alleviating the dependency of refugees on aid;
6. Maintaining the civilian and humanitarian character of camps;
7. Promoting social cohesion between refugees and host communities through implementation of targeted resilience programmes; and
8. Supporting asylum countries towards more comprehensive and sustainable solutions benefitting refugees and host communities in line with the Global Compact on Refugees.

REGIONAL COORDINATION

The 2022 response to the South Sudan situation, engaging with 102 RRRP and other humanitarian, governmental and development partners, will work to meet the eight protection and solutions priorities outlined above in all countries of the refugee response. These interventions will be carried out for South Sudanese refugees in the asylum countries and extended to members of the host communities in refugee hosting areas.

Regional RRP partners work in close collaboration with UN and NGO partners in the development and humanitarian realms, and with regional economic communities such as the Intergovernmental Authority for Development to ensure a regionally coordinated response to the South Sudanese refugee crisis.

The complete list of the 102 partners involved in the 2022 South Sudan Regional RRP is provided on the following page.
