

Ethiopia has continued to witness conflict and drought-induced displacement throughout the reporting period. Throughout the course of the three months, the security situation in Oromia, Benishangul-Gumuz, and Gambella regions has deteriorated triggering further displacements. Inter-Agency assessments and protection monitoring reports have shown that continued conflict and intercommunal violence have impacted the wellbeing of Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs), IDP returnees, and other vulnerable populations, leading to growing unemployment and socio-economic disparities. Conflict over scarce resources and climate effects remain largely unaddressed in those locations.

UNHCR continues to collaborate in the Government-led Inter-Agency response to the plight of the forcibly displaced, in line with its 2022-2026 strategic directions focussing on the following three areas of intervention:

1. Provide quality protection support and services to Internally displaced persons (IDPs).

2. Address basic needs of IDPs through shelter, core relief items and camp management activities enhancing their protection.

3. Support IDPs in achieving a durable solution of their choice to their displacement.

Overview

UNHCR is present across the nine IDP-hosting and provides ad hoc response in other parts of the country as necessary. In coordination with its partners, UNHCR has reached over 1.373,536 million people over the last three months, including through protection services, distribution of material assistance and shelter interventions.

Dignity kits (sanitary pads, underwear, and soap) were provided to 30,558 IDP women and girls of reproductive age in Afar, Amhara and Tigray, in coordination with Camp Coordination Camp Management (CCCM), WASH, Shelter/Non-Food Items, Protection monitoring and GBV sectors, also, in Northern Ethiopia, UNHCR identified through vulnerability screening, monitoring and rapid assessment of IDPs, over 12,190 persons with specific needs for targeted assistance

Detailed Operational Response

Amhara region

- Over 406,853 IDPs benefitted from protection services, provided through UNHCR protection desks, protection and detention monitoring, group discussions, mental health and psychosocial support, and material assistance (such as core relief items, dignity kits and emergency shelter support).
- UNHCR conducted a series of capacity-building sessions within the Amhara region, benefitting government officials, partners and IDPs to enhance understanding of the rights of IDPs, improve protection support and ensure adequate and quality interventions.
- To meet the increasing shelter needs, UNHCR pitched 16 communal shelters in Zarema, 24 in Kulichmeda, 35 in the new Tirkir site in Sekota, eight in Gerado and two large communal shelters near Woinshet paper factory for the newly arriving IDPs from Oromia region and 120 communal shelters in Jara site. Furthermore, cash assistance was provided to 440 households in Kelala for the repair of their damaged houses.
- UNHCR scaled up its GBV response. Through 17 sessions engaging 204 men in GBV prevention, UNHCR created awareness of GBV and understanding of existing power imbalances, inequalities, root causes, contributing factors, and impacts of GBV in the community. Participation of men was ensured in the sessions in order to understand their attitudes, knowledge, and beliefs that are the root causes and contributing factors to different forms of violence in the community.
